Sales Tax on Labor an Open Invitation for a Referendum

Despite many editorial warnings and wide-spread public dissent the General Assembly Wednesday enacted a bill to widen the base of the state's 3 per cent sales tax.

The cold facts are, the legislature eliminated the top bracket of the increase in the state income tax and made up the revenue loss by applying the sales tax to repair services—sparing the rich and levying against the poor.

According to yesterday's wire dispatch from Little Rock the 3 per cent sales tax will be imposed on repair bills for automobiles and trucks, tires, farm machinery, household appliances, furniture, engineering and medical instruments, bicycles, office machines, and shoes.

If ever a bill deserved a petition to give the people a chance to repeal it in a statewide vote this is the one—and at this writing I'd say the probability of a referendum is a strong one.

It isn't a sales tax when you deal with repair work—it's a transaction tax—an outrageous levy against the poor who are forced to repair old articles instead of buying new ones... a tax not against things but against labor, the main ingredient in repair work.

There are lobbies to block every kind of tax except the sales tax—therefore it's always the sales tax that the legislature is bludgeoned into raising, in a money pinch.

It's happened again, as so many times in the past—and if a wrathful people demand a popular vote this is one editor who'll accomodate them to the best of his ability.

Former ABC Director Arrested

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Joe Gaspard, former director of the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department, surrendered to Pulaski County Sheriff Monroe Love Wednesday after a warrant had been issued for his arrest.

The warrant was based on an indictment returned Friday by the Pulaski County Grand Jury. The indictment against Gaspard and indictments against five others was returned following an investigation of the ABC. The others were arrested earlier this week.

The indictment against Gaspard said that on Aug. 31 and Sept. 20, 1970, the former ABC director unlawfully harbored and protected former agent Charles Daunis by "destroying or authorizing the destruction of certain quantities of hashish and/or marijuana, sold and/or possessed" by Daunis. The indictment said Gaspard destroyed criminal evidence knowing that Daunis had violated a state law by being in possession of, selling and dispensing a narcotic drug.

Daunis, 24, was arrested Monday on a felony charge of possessing a narcotic drug and six misdemeanor charges in connection with violation of state alcoholic beverage laws.

200,000 Added Monthly to Welfare Rolls at Cost of $120 Million Nixon Asks $2 Billion to Create Jobs

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's major welfare program is continuing to record unprecedented increases of more than 200,000 recipients and $120 million a month, according to the government's latest statistics.

Figures for November 1970, the latest period available, show an additional 282,000 men, women and children enrolled over the previous month in the program of aid to families with dependent children. At this rate the annual increase would be 3.4 million persons.

Based on a per-person cost of $600-plus, the increase would cost all levels of government an additional $2.5 billion.

The bill, part of Nixon's program to share federal money with the states, will include some funds for job training and creation of public service jobs in states and cities. But sources in organized labor said not enough jobs would be created.

The measure is a substitute for one Nixon vetoed late last year. He objected particularly to a provision for creating permanent public service jobs which the White House said would only provide make-work, dead-end jobs.

Sources said Nixon's new bill would avoid putting disadvantaged, unemployed workers into permanent public jobs by including a time limit designed to make such jobs stepping stones to employment in private industry.

The AFL-CIO denounced that proposal, saying it would undercut the federal minimum wage of $1.60 an hour, shouldn't be limited to welfare recipients and wouldn't create enough jobs in an economy with 6 per cent of the work force unemployed.

Census Shows Blacks Are Leaving South and Whites Are Moving in WASHINGTON (AP) — The South showed a migratory population gain in the 1960s for the first time in a century, the Census Bureau says, but the exodus of blacks was not slowed significantly.

Although picking up a net gain of 500,000 persons through migration, the 16 Southern states lost blacks at the rate of 140,000 a year, a bureau report showed Wednesday. This contrasted with earlier Census estimates that heavy migration of blacks from the South during the 1940s and 1950s had been cut to about 88,000 a year.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans, in releasing the report, said continued high migration of blacks indicated Negroes were searching for better jobs or higher welfare benefits than offered in the South.

The half-million gain through migration was first since Civil War times for the South, the nation's most heavily populated region.

Most of those moving into the South in the '60s were whites, and most went to Florida, Maryland, Virginia, Texas and Georgia. Most of the blacks leaving the region during the decade

Rail Dispute Unsettled, Talks Resume

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union negotiators in a nationwide railroad dispute agreed today to resume talks after a brief breakdown. They said no strike was imminent.

"If I had scheduled a strike I wouldn't tell newsmen," said President Charles Luna of the United Transportation Union.

He said negotiators, who had unexpectedly walked out of the Labor Department after 18 hours of nearly continuous, tempestuous talks, would be back at the bargaining table at 4 p.m.

Both he and Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery said they were hopeful of a settlement.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate approved Gov. Dale Bumpers' bill to raise the cigarette tax but the administration's measure to cut the discount merchants receive for sales tax collection failed in the House Wednesday.

Hodgson, Usery and chairman George Ives of the National Mediation Board huddled privately after the union negotiating team left the talks at the Labor Department.

The bill would cut from 2 to 1 percent the discount merchants receive for collection and early payment of sales tax revenue.

Provisions of the last strike act Congress passed expired at 12:01 a.m. Monday. The union has been free to strike since then.

Congress is almost certain to step in again if the union decides to strike in an effort to apply pressure in the 14-month-old dispute.

The Senate has approved all of the administration's tax bills left for consideration after the governor revised his tax package last week in the face of legislative opposition to the original proposals.

The cigarette tax measure, which would raise Arkansas' tax above that of neighboring states, would produce $9.5 million to $10 million of the $27 million in new revenue Bumpers has requested of the legislature.

When the Senate roll was called Wednesday, only 24 senators voted for the bill, but three senators who had first not cast a vote then joined the vote in favor of the bill to secure its passage. They were Sens. Jim Caldwell of Rogers, Joe T. Ford of Little Rock and Bill Bishop of Harrisburg.

The Senate had defeated the bill 25-7 Monday, but kept the $20,000 or More Pay for Dept. Heads

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Legislative Joint Budget Committee proposed Wednesday that most of the department heads under the reorganized state government have salaries of $20,000 a year or more.

The only exception was the salary for the Labor Department director, which the committee left at $12,000 annually, the same amount proposed for the job by Gov. Dale Bumpers.

The governor had proposed salaries ranging up to $25,000 for several positions, but the committee recommended $24,500 per year for the state Health Department director and smaller sums for all other positions.

Annual salaries of $20,000 were proposed for the directors of the Planning Commission, Industrial Development Department, Parks and Tourism Department, Pollution Control and Ecology Department, Correction Department, Public Safety Department and Commerce Department.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Four American airmen were kidnapped today and terrorists demanded $400,000 ransom, threatening to "put them before a firing squad" if the money wasn't delivered.

Turkish police said five armed Turks abducted the airmen early today as they patrolled around a U.S. radar base near Ankara. The terrorists forced their military car off the road, tied up the Turkish driver and drove off with the Americans.

The ransom note set a late afternoon deadline.

The Americans were identified as Sgt. Jimmie J. Sexton of San Angelo, Tex., and Airmen I.C. Larry J. Heavner of Den-

Copters Used to Advance Drive in Laos

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. helicopters advanced South Vietnamese troops six miles deeper into Laos Wednesday and today as other Saigon troops fought off strong North Vietnamese counterattacks.

South Vietnamese field commanders said the advance put Saigon's forces 24½ miles west of the border and half a mile from Sepone, a major North Vietnamese transshipment point on the Ho Chi Minh trail.

It was the first South Vietnamese advance since Feb. 17.

The American helicopters leap-frogged the South Vietnamese over the Saigon and enemy forces strong along Route 9. A South Vietnamese spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Thung Hien, said the advance opened a new front 10 miles on either side of Highway 9 and 21 to 24½ miles from the borders. But he said no contact had been made with the enemy in the new sector.

Troops of the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division "are moving west," Hien told newsmen at Quang Tri.

"We are using as much as possible our air mobility. Our troops at the spearhead are broken up into infantry units of battalion size or more."

Massive airlifts continued all day out of Khe Sanh, the U.S. helicopter base near the Laotian border.

The South Vietnamese command claimed more than 400 North Vietnamese troops killed Wednesday night and today.

The fury of the war in Laos was reflected in the weekly casualty summary issued today by the allied commands.

Cunningham said the House had acted in haste in approving the bill.

AP News Digest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation teetered on the verge of a rail strike early today after representatives of the United Transportation Union unexpectedly left talks with railroad negotiators.

SAIGON (AP) — The battle for the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos has heated up again with strong North Vietnamese counterattacks, tank battles and a six-mile advance westward by South Vietnamese forces supported by hundreds of U.S. helicopters.

SAIGON (AP) — Weekly casualty summaries show American combat deaths for last week reaching 69, the highest weekly toll in six months, and South Vietnamese casualties climbing to the highest point since the 1968 Tet offensive.

Most of the allied casualties were suffered in the drive in Laos, although some South Vietnamese losses came in the Saigon government's parallel offensive in eastern Cambodia.

The U.S. Command reported 69 Americans killed in action last week, 10 more than the previous week and the highest total since the week of Aug. 30-Sept. 5, when 87 deaths were reported. Many of the losses last week occurred in helicopters shot down while supporting the South Vietnamese forces in Laos.

The command reported 211 Americans wounded in combat last week, compared with 217 the week before.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced 898 of its troops were killed in action and 2,222 were wounded last week, more than double the 432 killed and 1,446 wounded the week before.

PARIS (AP) — The chief Communist delegates boycotted the weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks today because of the Nixon administration's "acts of war" against North Vietnam. The United States accused them of showing no interest in a settlement.

"Instead of treating the real issues here, you waste everyone's time with maneuvers, polemics and propaganda," U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce declared.

"Instead of recognizing and addressing the question of the illegal presence of North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, you indulge in distortion and even fantasy to support your acts of aggression. Instead of offering genuine negotiating proposals you demand acceptance of your preconditions before you will even consider serious discussions."

"Instead of taking the opportunity these meetings offer to make peace and end the killing, you use them only to justify your continuing to wage war."

Casey Still Supported by White House

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has reaffirmed in an exchange of letters its support of New York tax lawyer William J. Casey to be chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

It released a letter today by John W. Dean III, counsel to President Nixon, saying the administration is satisfied that an investigation of questions raised about Casey since his nomination showed "no evidence of personal wrongdoing on his part."

The letter was to Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, who had asked Nixon for any further information he might have about Casey.

The White House also made public letters to Sparkman from Casey, giving detailed answers to the questions, and from Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist, commenting on legal issues in a 1962 court suit brought against Casey.

Dean wrote: "After reviewing all the information Mr. Casey has presented and the letter from the Department of Justice, it is our considered judgment that Mr. Casey has done nothing which in any way diminishes his extraordinary qualifications for the position of chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission."

"It is sincerely hoped that the Committee concurs with this conclusion and that this matter may be expeditiously resolved so that Mr. Casey can embark upon the important task for which he has been nominated."

The Senate panel tentatively approved Casey Feb. 10 but will reopen its hearings next Tuesday in light of questions raised by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

One of new issues involves a 1962 civil suit filed in a New York federal court alleging Casey violated the Securities Act by helping to sell unregistered stock in a small company of which he was principal owner. This law is enforced by SEC.

Dean conceded the White House did not know of this case when Casey was nominated.

American officials said Sexton's wife is in Ankara, Heavy's is in Denver and the other two men are single.

The ransom note was delivered to the semi-official Anatolian News Agency, which reported that three youths came to the agency office and gave the receptionist Ghulson's identity card and a statement.

The statement was from a group calling itself the Turkish People's Liberation Army. The group demanded the message be read on radio and published by the news agency. It called on Turks to revolt against the country's conservative government and its membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Turkish police said they arrested one youth "near the Russian Embassy" in connection with the kidnaping. They gave no other details.

U.S. Ambassador William Handley said he was "deeply concerned" and was in touch with the Foreign Ministry and security officials.

An embassy official said no decision had been made on the ransom. He said the statement did not give instructions on how, where or to whom the money should be delivered.

It was the second kidnaping of American servicemen in Ankara this year.

On Feb. 15 a group of Turks invaded an American base on the outskirts of the city and kidnaped an American airman who was on guard duty. He was released unharmed 17 hours later.

The kidnapers' primary purpose then was either sabotage or theft, informed sources said later, and they only abducted Sgt. Jimmy Ray Finley, 24, of Fort Worth, Tex., because he ran into them.

Officials blame leftist extremists for a wave of terrorist attacks on the U.S. military in Turkey.

2 Amendments Approved in Committee

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House Wednesday approved two proposed constitutional amendments—one to lower the voting age in state and local elections to 18 and the other to rewrite the legislative article of the 1874 state Constitution.

Senate approves the two proposals, they will be submitted to the electorate in the 1972 general election. The legislature may submit up to three proposed amendments in each general election.

Pending in the Senate is a proposed constitutional amendment that would establish four-year terms for constitutional officers.

The constitutional amendments committees of both houses had agreed to seek joint Senate and House approval of the three, making its choice from a list of eight proposed amendments that had been introduced in the legislature.

The legislative article proposal, sponsored by Reps. Calvin R. Ledbetter Jr. of Little Rock and Roscoe Brown of Jonesboro, would permit the legislature to establish the salary of its members on the condition that two successive regular sessions of the General Assembly must approve the salary figure.

The proposal also would provide for single-member legislative districts and would allow annual sessions of the legislature if they are needed.

The proposed amendment would require the approval of 60 per cent of members of each house in order to pass a new tax or to increase an existing tax. Currently some taxes may be enacted by a simple majority and others need a three-fourths majority for approval.

Foes of Sales Tax Hike Are Heard

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Opponents of an increase in the sales tax renewed their argument Wednesday night that the tax would place the greatest burden on the poor and middle income groups.

Supporters of raising the sales tax, however, claimed that an increase in the 3 per cent tax was the only means by which the state could adequately fund public education and meet other state needs.

They spoke at a joint public hearing held by the Revenue and Taxation Committees of the Arkansas House and Senate on one bill to increase the sales tax by a half per cent and another to raise the tax by a full per cent.

About 200 persons, more than half of them teachers who support the tax increase, attended the hearing at Little Rock Central High School.

J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas AFL-CIO, said studies had shown that Arkansas over-emphasized consumer-oriented taxes that hit lower income groups hardest.

Becker said the average wage in Arkansas was $100 a week, but that teachers, who work 36 weeks a year, average $179 a week. On a full year's basis, he said, the average teacher salary is $124 a week.

He said education and the teachers, who are pushing a sales tax increase to raise their salaries, had a good cause "but we feel bad solution."

Hubert Blanchard of the Arkansas Education Association, told the committee that Gov. Dale Bumpers' $27.3 million tax program did not meet the urgent needs of education or the state.

He said the sales tax was the only tax source left that could fund the needs.

Bumpers has proposed increasing teacher salaries by 1900 in the coming biennium, but Blanchard said the governor was not fulfilling his commitment to raise teacher salaries to the average of surrounding states, which he said was $1,102 higher than the Arkansas average of $6,459.

Blanchard said the trend in other states was to rely more, not less, on the sales tax as a source of revenue.

Arnold Berner of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation told the committee that the federation supported the half-per cent increase in the sales tax provided that a "high percentage" of the estimated $20 million in new revenues it would generate went to education.

Les Gibbs, an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for governor last year and a former Revenue Department employee, said he was opposed to a sales tax increase until he said the state collected $50 million in taxes that he said was delinquent.

The proposed amendment would require the approval of 60 per cent of members of each house in order to pass a new tax or to increase an existing tax. Currently some taxes may be enacted by a simple majority and others need a three-fourths majority for approval.

Discusses Political Philosophy

"Democratic versus Republican Philosophy" was the program Mrs. Jim Pruden presented to the Hempstead County Republican Women's Club when it met Monday, March 1 in the home of the president, Mrs. Carter Russell.

In summary, Mrs. Pruden described the two major political parties in this way, "The Democratic Party advocates the general welfare of people through federal programs with great executive power; the Republican Party promotes the restraint of government with balance among the three branches and greater freedom of states as dictated by the Constitution."

A business session was conducted by the president, and the club voted to contribute $100 to the Winthrop Rockefeller Scholarship Fund to establish a scholarship in political science at the U of A.

Fresh peaches over cake, nuts and beverages were served by the hostess.

Delta Kappa Gamma Meets

Japonica and jonquils were seen in the home of Mrs. Ruth Hanegan on Tuesday, March 2 when the Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met there. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Mary Nell Turner and Mrs. Belle Klipsch.

The Rev. Jerry Westmoreland discussed "The Moral Values in Our Culture Today" and cited several examples of our "new freedom". At the conclusion of his prepared remarks, a question and answer period was held with all the members talking part.

In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Bobbie Brown, had charge of the meeting. The business was routine with one exception. The next meeting was changed to March 30 because of the Easter holidays.

During the refreshment hour a salad plate and spiced tea were served.

WHEN ADULTS TAKE YOUTHS' WORDS, THEY'RE "RIPPED"

Dear Helen:

I'm about to throw up!

I mean kids don't take over adult slang like "lush" or "beautiful people" (BP) or "raunchy." So why do the elders take our good words and kill them in advertising campaigns and sales come-ons?

About the only decent word we've got left is "ripped" and some hot shot promoter will get that up on a billboard next!

I read the other day that a fashion consultant advised sales people to "Use words like 'all together,' 'hang loose,' 'play it cool' and 'rap,' as they are very important." Well, about the second time I hear a clerk telling me I've got it all together, or I look 'groovy' or 'outasite' in a dress I'm trying on, I'll split. Those are (or were) MY generation's things.

The other day I even heard a friend's mother say she had a "zit." Really! They'll be bragging about "hickies" next! If they can get men on the moon, Helen, why can't they make up their own slang?

It's no wonder we go to the heavy four-letter words. Most of our parents are still too chicken to say 'em.—VICTIM OF THEFT'

Dear Victim:

You're so right. (Notice I avoided "Right on!"—all great expressions once but dying of "Popularity.") I think the only slang phrase that may last the race-rebellion-and-drug scene is "hangup." That one has staying power!

... And a cliché that curdles my soul, V.T., is "If they can get a man on the moon, why can't they...?" You stole one of OUR oldies and gone-baddies there, chum.—H.

Dear Helen:

This is a letter from a girl who learned the hard way.

Right after high school my girl friend and I found we were pregnant. After the shock and fright wore off, we discussed our problem with professional advisors and decided that, because we were so young, we would give the babies up for adoption, not get married.

The other boy and girl are doing just that: going to college,

Scouts Told Value of Fingerprints

On February 11 and 18, Boy Scout Troop 92 of the Presbyterian Church worked with Deputy Sheriff Howard Milam learning proper finger printing procedures. Mr. Milam explained to the boys the importance of fingerprints and showed each boy how to do his own.

According to Scoutmaster Harold Sisson the following boys will receive their fingerprinting merit badge on March 4: Larry and Paul Patton, Tim Arnold, Ricky Sisson, Bobby Barger, Glenn Cochran, Ricky Adison, Ted Tolleson, David Upchurch, Mike Davis, Jim Sturart, Corby Wiggins, Paul Willis, Greg Impson, Edward Morgan, John Walker, and Donnie Dougan. The boys were much impressed by the information Mr. Milam gave them.

The opening was conducted by Webelos leader Richard VanHorn assisted by Joe Van Horn who read an acrostic on Americanism in which every boy in the pack participated. The invocation led by Cubmaster Don Hughes preceded a delicious pot luck supper with meat donated by Don King of Kroger Company and drinks supplied by Hope Beverage. Committeeman Don Cofield led the approximately 50 people in attendance in the singing of America. Scout Master Harold Sisson told the boys how important Cub Scouting and Webelos was to future Boy Scouts assisted by Ricky Sisson, Paul Patton and Larry Patton who told the boys what Scouting meant to them personally. The program consisted of slides of a Scout Jamboree in Vietnam and a trip to England.

Mr. VanHorn received the opening boys into his Webelos Den: David Lockard, Taylor King, Johnnie Lee Turner, John Aaron Scott and Anthony Hines. Homer Robinson was received as a new Bobcat by Den 1.

Den chief lanyards went to Bobbie Barger and Larry Patton. Mark Moore received a 1 year pin, 2 year pins went to David Lockard, Taylor King, Scott Patton and Den Chief Paul Patton. Den Chief Larry Patton received a 3 year pin. Taylor King received his Bear badge with a gold and silver arrow. Perfect attendance pins went to Scott Patton and Den Chiefs Larry and Paul Patton. Denner Bars went to David Allen and Scott Patton with Assistant Denner bars going to Joe VanHorn and Mark Moore.

The closing ceremony was conducted by Cubmaster Hughes with Cubber David Allen reading Edgar A. Guest's "A Creed".

Pack 92 Holds Blue, Gold Banquet

On Thursday, February 25, Cub Scout Pack 92 held its annual Blue and Gold banquet at Brookwood school cafeteria.

The decor was blue and gold with touches of red, white and blue emphasizing the theme—Our American Heritage. Displays ranged from a miniature handmade log cabin in an appropriate setting to posters concerned with preserving our American heritage by saving our American Resources (SOAR). Of particular interest was a copy of a civil war discharge belonging to the great great grandfather of Scott Patton. Congressman John Paul Hammerschmidt had sent the boys copies of a booklet concerned with great American documents and a tour guide of Washington.

The opening was conducted by Webelos leader Richard VanHorn assisted by Joe Van Horn who read an acrostic on Americanism in which every boy in the pack participated. The invocation led by Cubmaster Don Hughes preceded a delicious pot

Circus shows are always popular, so this one—pleasant but not unusual—may help boost the singer's ratings which, despite his popularity in other areas, remain at a disappointing level.

CBS's "Hawaii Five-O," certain to return next season, started a two-part murder mystery Wednesday. The central figure is a mentally retarded son of a professional ball player. The boy, well played by Elliot Street, is witness to the murder of a woman in the ball park. In the first episode the conflict was between the investigating police and the father's protective attitude. In the second, it probably will be the murderer's effort to get rid of the boy.

All Over for Bobcats

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

It's all over for the Hope Bobcats this year.

Unable to put together a second half rally along with many turnovers, the Bobcats fell victim to the Arkadelphia Badgers last night, 55-41, in their first district tournament game.

After getting off to a fine early season start, including district play, the Cats end up with a 14-12 season record, still one of the better records for a Hope team in a few years.

Getting the ball first, Lynn Norton quickly put Hope on the board, but Arkadelphia regained the lead, until John Dudley hit three points with 5:33 left in the first period, for a 5-4, Hope lead.

Again falling behind, Hope finished out the first period scoring with Dudley getting three points, the last two on a backwards bank shot with 32 seconds left to pull the Cats to within one, entering the second period, 12-11.

With neither team heading more than a three point lead and the score tied twice, the Badgers led at halftime, 23-21.

Hope stayed close in the second period on the shooting of Parker Powell and Dudley, while Bill Vining paced the Badgers.

Proceeding after intermission, Hope took the tipoff and quickly tied the score on a jumpshot by Norton, but six straight points by Vining put Arkadelphia in a 29-23 lead, and the score wasn't to be knotted again.

Goals by Dudley and Powell pulled the Cats to within two with 4:41 left, but Mike Harris found the range and combining with Vining and John Holbrook, Arkadelphia kept their lead as the quarter ended with the Bobcats trailing, 39-35, after Powell and Charles Frazier each hit a layup.

Outscored 16-6 in the final frame, Hope was thus eliminated from the tournament.

Staying close early on points by Powell and Norton, the Cats began to fall farther behind, after Vining hit two Badger points with a little over four minutes to play.

Two charity shots by Dudley with 2:07 left in the game, were the last Bobcat points scored in the game and the season, as Arkadelphia hit seven more points to seal it up.

Powell led Hope's scoring with 15 points, followed by Dudley with 14, and Norton with 10. Vining led the Badgers with 21 points.

Ouachita in Defense of State Title

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ouachita successfully opened defense of its state title with a 55-54 victory over Clarendon Wednesday in first-round action of the Class A senior boys state basketball tournament in Little Rock.

Ouachita built up a 47-32 lead at the end of three quarters, but a full-court press by Clarendon cut the lead to just one point with 11 seconds left in the game. The Lions, however, could not score again and Ouachita had the victory.

In other Class A action Wednesday, Green Forest nipped Osceola Rosenwald 73-66 in overtime, Taylor rolled over Valley View 78-62 and Salem defeated Hummoke 42-36.

The Green Forest Tigers out-scored Rosenwald 8-1 in an overtime period to nail down the victory. The Tigers had trailed by as much as eight points before coming back in

Carlton Is Looking Good for Cards

Steve Carlton was a 19-game loser for the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League last year. He won't be this season if his work in spring training is any criterion.

The 26-year-old southpaw pitched two strong innings in an intrasquad game Wednesday, sharpening his curve and changeup.

Carlton is scheduled to start against the New York Mets Saturday in the Cardinals' first exhibition game. The opening exhibition games are scheduled Friday and, in one of them, the New York Yankees play Washington at Pompano Beach.

Denny McLain, who may start for the Senators against the Yankees, impressed with a three-inning string in an intra-squad game Wednesday. He fanned the side in the first inning, but yielded a run in the third on a walk and a triple by Ed Stroud.

Donn Clendenon came up with three hits in three at bats in a Mets squad game in which Tom Seaver pitched two innings allowing two hits and striking out two.

A Cincinnati rookie, Kurt Bevacqua, was the star of the Reds' first squad game. He drove in five runs, two on a home run.

Veteran Tommy Davis also belted a home run and added a two-bagger in the Oakland A's squad game. Joe Pepitone and rookie Garry Jestadt hit for the circuit in the Chicago Cubs squad game. So did Rich Chiles, Larry Howard, Cesar Cerdeno and Cliff Johnson in the Houston squad game.

In off the field activity, Boog Powell, star slugger for the Baltimore Orioles, signed for an estimated $90,000, outfielder Vada Pinson signed with Cleveland for an estimated $61,500 and reliever Pete Mikkelsen signed with Los Angeles for $32,500.

In addition to the Yankees-Washington game, other opening exhibition games Friday include Pittsburgh vs. Chicago White Sox, Montreal vs. Atlanta, San Francisco vs. Chicago Cubs, San Diego vs. Oakland and Boston vs. Houston.

"That was my thinking last week. If I'd won the PGA, a major title, in my first start I would be justified in going home for a time."

He doesn't usually come to this country this early, but changed his schedule when the dates of the PGA were shifted.

"That's what people will remember you for," he said. "How many major championships you win. I'd rather win one of the four major titles than 25 other tournaments," said Player, one of four men ever to sweep the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and PGA crowns.

He finished fourth in the PGA. But it was close. Player closed to within a stroke of eventual winner Jack Nicklaus at one point of the final round at Palm Beach Gardens. But he shot himself out of it when he knocked one out of bounds and took a double bogey six on the 15th hole.

It was a remarkably good start for Player, who often has his difficulties immediately after coming to this country, and stamped him one of the top choices in the tough field here.

"You always like to think you can win, laddie," he said. "I'm playing well, very well. Possibly as good as I'm capable of playing."

the last quarter to tie the game 65-all at the end of regulation play.

Steve Stroud scored 14 points to lead Salem over Hummoke in a defensive battle.

Salem led 24-22 at the half and 30-27 after three quarters. William Hurt sank three free throws in the final two minutes to ice the game for Salem.

Though West was reported in excellent condition, doctors at Centinela Valley Hospital said the operation could not be pronounced successful until he could test the leg, at least three months from now.

That's nearly two months too late for the Lakers, who will begin the National Bas'eball Association playoffs in three weeks as champions of the Pacific Division. The playoffs last about a month and without their all-pro guard, the Lakers are likely to be eliminated.

Wichita Crash Could Have Been Avoided

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal board said today the 31-dead Wichita State University football disaster could have been avoided if the copilot of the chartered plane had realized only a minute sooner that he was flying into a dead-end canyon.

The National Transportation Safety Board made the finding in its official report on the Oct. 2 crash of an aging overweight propeller plane on the slopes of the Continental Divide west of Denver while the team was flying to Utah state.

The board said the copilot, Ronald G. Skipper, 35, Oklahoma City, had decided to fly through the Rocky Mountains "purely for sightseeing purposes." But it said he presumably spent no time studying the aerial charts he bought at a Denver stop.

The NTSB fixed the official cause of the crash as the intentional flight through a mountain valley at such a low level that the plane could neither turn around safely nor climb over the steep mountain ridge that suddenly appeared in front of it.

The board quoted testimony by Skipper, who was flying the plane, that indicated he didn't know the ridge was the Continental Divide until after the crash. Skipper was one of nine crash survivors.

The NTSB said if the crew had become concerned about clearing the terrain "less than one minute sooner," it would have been able to turn and go back. But another mountain blocked the view of the valley's sudden end at Loveland Pass until it was too late to escape the crash, the NTSB said.

The board criticized the "virtual absence of flight planning" for the mountain route as being a significant factor in the crash.

It also ruled the Martin 404 plane, making its first passenger flight after three years in mountains, was "an estimated 5,165 pounds overweight when it took off from Denver."

The NTSB already has upheld the revocation of the commercial flying license of Golden Eagle Aviation, Inc., of Oklahoma City, which supplied the crew. Skipper is president of Golden Eagle. Although he was listed as copilot for the plane, the NTSB said it was he who made the decision to change the route and who was flying the plane up the narrow valley.

A second Wichita State plane reached Logan, Utah, safely after climbing north from Denver to Wyoming before turning westward to clear the Rockies at a safe height. Skipper's plane had been scheduled to follow this route also, the NTSB said.

The tragedy sparked an investigation of loopholes in the way the Federal Aviation Administration regulates charter flights.

The NTSB said "the numerous deficiencies, unsafe practices, and deviations from regulations, involved in this operation, are typical" of charter flights when no single participant admits responsibility for its safety.

It agreed with the FAA that the regulations should be tightened, but the board questioned whether current FAA proposals, aimed at the schools leasing the planes, would do the job.

QUICK QUIZ

BLONDIE

Q—How many eggs can an oyster spawn?

A—In one season a large Virginia oyster may produce as many as five hundred million eggs and during its lifetime it may liberate five billion.

Q—Can the election of a U.S. president be dispensed with, even in time of war?

A—No. The Constitution requires that a president shall hold office "during the term of four years."

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Top-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania goes against unseeded Richard Russell of Jamaica and fourth-seeded Tomás Koch of Brazil plays Milan Holeček of Czechoslovakia today in the second round of the U.S. Indoor Tennis Championships.

In other matches involving seeded players, Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, the tournament's sixth-ranked player, meets Edison Mandarino of Brazil, and eighth-seeded Manuel Orantes of Spain is paired against Ion Tiriac of Romania.

Frank Froehling III of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., an unseeded player here and ranked 17th in the United States, highlighted Wednesday's action with a surprise 6-1, 6-4 victory over Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., the tournament's seventh-seeded player.

Froehling, 27, is making a comeback after a five-year absence from the tournament circuit.

He made quick work of the rising Gorman, taking the match in just 57 minutes.

Clark Graebner of New York, seeded No. 2, swept by Marty Mulligan of Italy in other action Wednesday, 6-4, 6-2, and No. 3 Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia overcame pesky 18-year-old Byron Bertram of South Africa, two-time Wimbledon junior champ, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

In doubles play, the top-seeded team of Nastase and Tiriac defeated Holeček and Valdemir Zednick of Czechoslovakia 6-0, 6-2.

Graebner and Koch, the second-seeded twosome, edged Tom Diefenbach and Mike Belkin, 6-4, 7-6.

Without West, Lakers Lose to Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

... And the beat goes on. And this time it was Los Angeles' time to get beaten. And now only a pair of also-rans can keep the Bucks out of the books.

Lew Alcindor, who has been leading Milwaukee through streak after streak this season as the National Basketball Association's scoring leader, got only 15 points—half his average—against Los Angeles Wednesday night.

But the Lakers had to play without their scoring leader, Jerry West—and probably won't get him back until next season—and that enabled the Bucks to mark up their 17th consecutive triumph, 112-97.

It put them one shy of the league record set a year ago by the champion New York Knicks—and the Bucks should have no trouble surpassing it.

They play Buffalo's first-year Braves Thursday night and the Detroit Pistons on Friday. Milwaukee has lost only once in eight games against the two teams, last in their respective divisions.

In other NBA games Philadelphia flattened Portland 120-104, Boston bombed San Diego 128-113, Cincinnati squeezed by Baltimore 133-132 in overtime, Phoenix flipped Chicago 115-90 and Atlanta turned back San Francisco 109-106.

In the American Basketball Association Kentucky outlasted Carolina 131-108, Indiana mauled Memphis 122-98 and Utah slammed Denver 139-106.

Veteran Wilt Chamberlain easily outplayed Alcindor, holding his young foe to his lowest output of the season. Chamberlain also hit 24 points. Los Angeles teammate Gail Goodrich had 25. Oscar Robertson of Milwaukee also had 24.

But the Lakers couldn't keep up with the Bucks without West, last year's NBA scoring champ and the club's second superstar to be sidelined.

Elgin Baylor has been out most of the season with a torn Achilles tendon and West was knocked out of action or at least six weeks—the NBA playoffs begin within a month—with torn right knee cartilage during Tuesday night's game at Buffalo.

Philadelphia led just 54-52 at the half before the defense tightened, enabling the 76ers to pull away from the Trail Blazers and stay 2 1/2 games ahead of Boston in the race for the second playoff spot in the Atlantic Division. Archie Clark of Philly topped all scorers with 28 points.

JoJo White's 34 points enabled

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset the Celtics to pull away from San Diego in the third period after the Rockets, paced by Elvin Hayes' game-high 35 points—31 of them in the first half—briefly led only 66-62 at the intermission.

Cincinnati led by as many as 19 points in the second half before the Bullets rallied to tie it at 120-120 after regulation time. Then the Royals went ahead to stay as Sam Lacey and Tom Van Arsdale scored 23 apiece and Norm Van Lier added 22. Fred Carter scored 33 for Baltimore, which failed to clinch the Central Division crown.

Phoenix scored the first nine points of the third period en route to closing within half a game of the Bulls in the scramble for the runner-up spot behind Milwaukee in the Midwest Division. Clem Haskins led the Suns' surge and wound up with 28 points.

Atlanta scored six straight points and snapped a 102-102 tie with San Francisco. Pete Maravich sparked the spurt with a pair of baskets and a free throw in the final three minutes as the Hawks overcame an early 14-point deficit.

Maravich topped Atlanta with 33 points while Nate Thurmond was high for the Warriors with 25.

Pop Winning Over Son by Slim Margin

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Brad MacGregor and his father, Bruce, are playing a long distance game of Can You Top This and right now, pop is winning. Barely.

The senior MacGregor fired three goals and assisted on two others Wednesday night leading the New York Rangers to an 8-1 National Hockey League romp over the California Golden Seals and restored the hockey success in the family to its proper prospective.

Elsewhere in the NHL Wednesday night, Pittsburgh shut out Montreal 4-0, Toronto topped Vancouver 3-1, Chicago defeated St. Louis 5-1 and Buffalo and Los Angeles played a 3-3 tie.

The five scoring points gave MacGregor 11 points in his last five games—all of them New York victories. And it gave 6-year-old Brad something to shoot for when he takes the ice in his pee wee hockey league this weekend.

"I was talking to him on the phone the other night," said the senior MacGregor, who left his family behind in Windsor, Ont., when he was traded from Detroit to New York last month. "He told me he had a hat trick last Friday. I told him I had to get going. That put him ahead of me in goals."

So MacGregor took three shots against California's Gary Smith Wednesday and all of them went in, increasing his season's goal total to 11.

Center Pete Stemkowski, like MacGregor a Ranger reclamation project from Detroit, also had five points with two goals and three assists as New York enjoyed its biggest scoring night of the season.

The other Ranger goals were scored by Walt Tkaczuk, who also had a pair of assists, Dave Balon, who had his 35th of the season, and rookie defenseman Andre Dupont, who had his first ever in the NHL.

Pittsburgh ended Montreal's eight-game unbeaten streak on goalie Les Binkley's second shutout of the season.

Jean Pronovost had two goals and an assist for the Penguins, who moved within three points of idle Minnesota and Philadelphia, who are tied for third place in the West Division.

Bryan Hextall and Dunc McCallum scored the other Pittsburgh goals.

Toronto bunched third-period goals by Paul Henderson, Bill MacMillan and George Armstrong to whip Vancouver. Until the final 20 minutes, the Canucks behind goalie Dunc Wilson, led 1-0 on Rosaire Paiement's goal.

Chicago's Hull brothers—Bob and Dennis—each had a goal as the Black Hawks thumped St. Louis.

Bobby's 550th career goal and 40th this season got the Hawks off in front after only 18 seconds of play. Dennis smashed a 50-foot slapper for his 35th goal midway through the final period. Other Hawk goals went to Danny O'Shea, Stan Mikita and Jim Pappin.

The victory gave the Hawks a fat 22-point bulge over the Blues at the top of the NHL's West Division.

Students of AM&N Protest Merger

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 200 Negro students from Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff converged on the state Capitol Wednesday to protest a bill that would merge AM&N with the University of Arkansas.

Dr. Lawrence Davis, president of AM&N, also was at the Capitol and he told newsmen he was opposed to the bill.

Gov. Dale Bumpers told Davis and the students that he did not want "to force anything down your throat."

The governor said the merger bill passed Tuesday by the House was not an administration measure and that he had discouraged its introduction.

Asked later if he would veto the bill if it was passed by the Senate, Bumpers said he would want both boards to be agreeable to the measure. He gave the same answer several times when asked if he would veto the measure.

Davis said that Rep. Boyce Alford of Pine Bluff, sponsor of the bill, had never talked with him about the proposal. Alford had said Tuesday that Davis favored the merger.

Davis said he did not categorically oppose a merger with UA, but there should be time to talk about how to go about it and work out solutions to problems that arise in a merger instead of rushing into something like this."

Bumpers told the students he would do all he could to help AM&N, saying, "I know your concern about AM&N and I know what the school means to you."

Davis said he would like a number of safeguards written into the bill if there is a merger. One is that the "mission" of the college to provide an education for poor students be preserved. Another condition Davis named was an assurance of a black administration at the school until such time that race no longer is a factor in the selection of administrators for any of the state-supported colleges and universities.

Davis said a merger now would not give blacks a voice in the determination of the college's policy because there are no blacks on the UA Board of Trustees. Under the bill, the AM&N board would be abolished.

Committee Gets Proposed Amendments

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18 in all elections went before the Senate Judiciary Committee today with sponsors hoping for quick approval.

They say 86 senators favor the measure.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said if the amendment is approved by the committee it might be the first legislation before the Senate once the battle over the filibuster rule is ended.

The House Judiciary Committee approved the proposed amendment 32 to 2 Tuesday. Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said it could be ratified by the states in time to apply to the 1972 elections if Congress acts quickly.

A constitutional amendment requires approval by a two-thirds majority in the House and the Senate and ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Congress last year lowered the voting age to 18 in all elections, but the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the measure only for federal elections.

The court ruled Congress had no power to fix the voting age for state and local elections.

Three states, Alaska, Georgia and Kentucky, now permit 18-year-olds to vote.

Unless the proposed constitutional amendment is approved, separate dual-age systems of registration and voting will have to be established in all other states for next year's elections.

State officials, in a survey conducted by a Senate subcommittee on constitutional amendments, said this could cause major confusion and cost an estimated $10 million to $20 million.

The Judiciary subcommittee approved the 18-year-old vote amendment Tuesday.

Letters To The Editor

This your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

FOR MILLAGE HIKE

Editor The Star: I am firmly in favor the millage increase in Hope for the following reasons:

1. As a teacher, I know an increase in salaries would draw more young teachers, particularly men who are needed, into the community to stay.

2. I believe the education provided in Hope could be broadened to include courses geared for the non-college-bound student.

3. I believe it worth your money to expand the school physical plant and to purchase new equipment for teachers and students.

4. I know it is necessary to meet North Central Association accreditation to qualify our graduates for college. This means Hope must offer a broad education, including a sound fine arts program.

This program was just begun this fall and as an art teacher, I know it takes money. I also believe that the expressions of students in art and music are necessary for a well-balanced young person.

As for the alternative of re-assessment, it is insanely naive to believe that an unfulfilled promise made nearly two years ago will be fulfilled now.

I received a good education in the Hope schools, but that was almost five years ago. To keep pace with the changes in our world, we must change the education we provide our young.

You have an excellent school administration. I know; I worked under them and beside them last summer. You have good students as evidenced by their interest in this election, particularly the Hope Hi-Lights staff.

We sit and shake our heads at "what the world is coming to." Well, let's don't just sit there; let's do something. It will cost a little, but it's worth it. Support education in Hope!

Violence in Pakistan Has Subsided

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Violence and tension brought on by postponement of Pakistan's constitutional assembly subsided today in Dacca, and East Pakistan's political leader promised to control demonstrations.

Sheik Mujibur Rahman, head of the Awami League, urged that government troops called out Tuesday to quell the mobs return to their barracks.

"Bengalis know how to maintain peace without the army," Mujibur told a rally of more than 100,000 East Pakistanis today. "Those who loot and burn are enemies of the people. I have called my volunteers to rise and resist them."

The crowd roared its defiance of domination by West Pakistan, shouting "Independent East Pakistan!"

Mujibur had called the meeting to mourn those who died in clashes with police and troops Tuesday and Wednesday. There were reports that at least 16 persons were killed and another 80 were injured, but only two deaths were confirmed.

The rally was another protest against postponement by the military government of the assembly, where the Awami League won a majority in January's elections. It had been scheduled to open Wednesday to draft a constitution for return to civilian rule.

After Mujibur's speech, the crowd dispersed quickly and quietly. But the general strike called by the sheik for the rest of the week continued.

PX Reforms Slow But Developing

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff says the giant, worldwide Army-Air Force PX system—"a wide-open cookie jar in the store no one was minding"—is slowly moving toward reform.

The Connecticut Democrat said in an interview a major overhaul of the military's handling of the billions of dollars involved in PX operations is needed and Congress should oversee the job directly.

Ribicoff's permanent investigation subcommittee has heard testimony of major scandals in the Post Exchange system, a $6 billion-a-year business involving GI stores and clubs overseas.

Ribicoff said Maj. Gen. William B. Campbell, new chief of the Army-Air Force Exchange System, visited him Wednesday and told him of plans to clamp tighter controls over PX procurement and auditing and to "lay down the law" to PX suppliers.

Witnesses told Ribicoff's subcommittee PX officials, some of them still part of the system, accepted luxurious, rent-free villas in Saigon from a prominent supplier whose juke boxes were later placed in PXs and snack bars all over Vietnam.

In testimony Wednesday, Senate investigators accused the vendor, William J. Crum, of conspiring with a sergeant and a one-star general to control the 30 noncommissioned officers' clubs at Long Binh, headquarters of the U.S. Army in Vietnam.

A witness, Army Maj. Clement St. Martin, former club officer at Long Binh, said Brig. Gen. Earl Cole, quashed his investigation of alleged illegal activities in the club and caused his transfer to duty with Army Engineers.

St. Martin said his three-month experience as club officer began when the club's top sergeant sent a Vietnamese go-go girl to his hotel room for the night and ended with a direct threat from the Army's top enlisted man.

In between, St. Martin testified, he developed evidence indicating club funds were paid illegally in dollars to vendors who used them to make profits in the currency black market.

He eventually heard that Crum had put a price on his head and, he testified, Sgt. Major of the Army William O. Wooldridge, then the Army's top-ranked enlisted man, told him he was aware the major had been "snooping" and asked, pointedly, "Don't you know you can get hurt?"

Wooldridge recently was indicted with several others on charges of conspiracy to defraud the club system in Vietnam.

Cole was relieved from an important command in Europe, stripped of a medal, reduced in rank to colonel and ordered to retire from the Army.

2-Year Senior Colleges Are Spawning

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The phenomenal growth of the nation's two-year junior or community colleges is spawning a new breed of higher education institution: the two-year senior college.

Florida is a pioneer in the field but interviews with educators at a convention here disclosed that both private and public institutions in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Texas, Michigan and California are experimenting with the concept.

Open only to college students with junior or senior standing, Florida has Florida-Atlantic at Boca Raton, with 6,000 students, and University of Florida West at Pensacola with 3,500 students. Similar schools, named Florida International at Miami and University of Florida North in Jacksonville, are scheduled to open in the fall of 1972.

Jack G. Guistwhite, director of inter-institutional relations at Florida-Atlantic, said in an interview at the American Association of Junior College convention that 65 to 70 per cent of the senior college students are junior college graduates.

Growth of the junior colleges has been dramatic. In 1930, according to the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, measure alive by approving a motion to erase the vote by which the bill had failed to pass at that time.

The discount measure failed in the House on a vote of 49-31. The original tally showed a vote of 54-31, enough for passage, but a poll of the House resulted in five of the favorable votes being discarded.

The House adopted an amendment to the bill to give merchants a reduction in the sales tax they turn over to the state for bad debts. Rep. P. K. Holmes of Newport sponsored the amendment, which Bumpers opposes and says is designed to kill the bill.

The administration's bill to give cities of the first class control over their local affairs was approved by the House 67-5. The bill would grant to the cities all powers not specifically prohibited by the General Assembly, including authority to levy an income tax if approved in a special local election. The bill goes to the Senate.

The Senate, meanwhile, finally amended the administration's bill to place a ceiling on political campaign expenditures. Sen. W. D. Moore Jr. of El Dorado sponsored the amendment, which removed from the bill a section that said money spent with advertising media on behalf of a candidate would count as part of the candidate's total expenditure.

After the amendment was adopted on a voice vote, the bill's sponsor, Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock, said the bill was dead as far as he was concerned. Moore had urged support for the amendment by warning that a candidate's foes could spend money in his behalf in a deliberate attempt to cause his expenditures to exceed the legal limit, thereby subjecting him to the prospect of being disqualified from office.

The House finished legislative action on the proposed $300 million highway construction bond issue by concurring in a Senate amendment requiring periodic reports to the governor and legislature on all expenditures for projects financed by the bonds.

In other actions Wednesday, the House:

— Defeated 30-15 but kept alive a bill that would prohibit construction of a dam on the Saline River. The Army Corps of Engineers has under consideration a plan to dam the river two miles north of Benton.

— Approved 72-0 a bill by Rep. Jim Linder of West Helena to prohibit the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board from issuing mixed-drink permits to private clubs that fail to permit inspection by legislative auditors of the club books.

— Defeated 47-24 a bill to empower the governor to appoint to the Legislative Council one House member and one Senate member, a power governors enjoyed before legislators struck it during the tenure of former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The Senate also:

— Approved 31-0 the administration's bill to make Arkansas part of an interstate compact on detainees to facilities speed trial or release of convicts imprisoned while other charges are pending against them.

— Approved on a voice vote a resolution directing that the Legislative Council study possible industries to be implemented in the state's prisons.

— Defeated 10-19 a bill by Sen. Nick Wilson of Pocahontas to prohibit after Jan. 1, 1973, private law practice by elected prosecuting attorneys.

there were less than 200,000 students enrolled in two-year schools. By 1970 enrollment had grown to 2 million. Educators estimate that in this decade junior college enrollment will double.

Most junior colleges offer comprehensive programs covering academic, occupational and general education programs.

The Carnegie Commission in its study endorsed this type of school and said they "should remain two-year institutions and not expect to become four-year or graduate institutions."

Dr. Peter Masliko, president of Miami-Dade Junior College, one of the nation's largest two-year schools with 34,000 fulltime students, said the junior college can give "better quality teaching, better quality counseling and guidance to the beginning student" than the traditional four-year undergraduate college.

Dr. John A. Perrier, president of Lehigh Community College near Allentown, Pa., agreed.
